10/19/21	Got a partner in class, we talked about a few different ideas: Harry Potter, Bob Ross, Apples.
10/24/21	Read online about what is an API Looked at the API site in the project document. There is a harry potter characters API listed. Looked at Google for other APIs https://github.com/theDavidBarton/the-harry-potter-database has books, characters, spells, and potions https://www.programmableweb.com/api/harry-potter has spells, characters, houses and sorting hat https://www.wuyuanchen.com/how-to-use-the-harry-potter-api/ has information on how to use a certain HP API https://api.bobross.dev/ has Bob Ross quotes https://github.com/jwilber/Bob_Ross_Paintings has a catalog of every painting/episode I was pretty much unable to search for any API or data about apples because of google thinking I was asking about the company and not the food. Cloned Jason's repo and reviewed the contents Contacted Jason to set a time to meet
